

BOBCAT BOUNCE

Welcome back to our January Newsletter! The students and teachers are back from Winter Break and the transition back to school has been smooth and productive! I truly appreciate all of your help in getting the students back to school and ready to learn. We are completing our winter benchmark testing this month to help the staff and teachers analyze the students' academic needs and prepare effective lessons for the winter months. The theme for the month of January is Collaboration, which is one of our core values and goals through PBIS. The students are working on what it looks and sounds like to work collaboratively in every interaction with peers, staff and adults in school and in the community. We are remembering to Stop and Think before anything we do. Please keep checking the website for additional highlights, including a featured video! Here are some upcoming dates for our families:

The month of January was all about renewing our goals, and starting the New Year right! January is a good time to reset, and renew ourselves by focusing on academic and behavior goals. Students are saving their Bywood bucks to cash in at school store. A great way to earn bucks is by following our school-wide rules of being Safe, Respectful, and Responsible!

Second graders, Antoine Hall, Calvin McRae, and Robbie Dussourd (pictured below) are loving life in their pajamas!

This month Bywood celebrated the start of Winter Wonderland Week!

Students and staff got festive by representing the Winter Season with a different theme each day. The festivities included Snowman Day, Jingle Bells Day, Holiday Sweater Day, and even Pajama Day, where students enjoyed our homemade snowman soup! Students and staff got really creative with how they dressed up for each theme.

Even though our beloved Eagles team did not finish out with a win in the playoffs,

students had fun cheering our Philadelphia team on while dressed in their favorite Eagles gear, including our very own hand-made Eagles headbands! No matter what, Bywood always supports our team!
