Weekly Newsletter

Hello Parents,

We finally made it through a full week of school (I'm not counting the half-day)! This week's newspaper article was appropriate considering the incoming Hurricane on the east coast. Mr. Walker did cooking with the students, which was more popular than we predicted. This week we held a lock down drill. I am happy to report that our class did a phenomenal job staying safe and staying quiet throughout the drill. We are wrapping up testing this week and should be on a completely normal schedule beginning next week. This is a reminder that tonight is Putt Putt night and next week will be school photos. I hope you all have a safe and dry weekend. Go EAGLES this Sunday!

Sincerely,
Jason Gonzalez
